School Overview

Hampden State School is located on the Bruce Highway 30 kilometres north of Mackay and caters for students from Prep to Year Six. Hampden prides itself on offering excellence in teaching in a friendly, well resourced and attractive environment. Hampden's 80 pupils generally live within a six kilometre radius of the school, often on small acreage lots. The small township of Kuttabul, three kilometres to the north, is the school's local service centre. Hampden has in place a range of quality programs covering all of the Key Learning Areas. Our teachers liaise closely with two nearby secondary schools and six primary schools which form our professional cluster group, ensuring continuity and review of curriculum materials. Hampden lives up to its motto 'Learning for Life' by providing a wide range of educational and extra curricular experiences for our students to participate in, and benefit from, including an annual camp, choir, community projects and leadership activities. The sense of community is very strong in our district with people coming together at every opportunity to support each other, help out on projects, or to celebrate special events.

Our School Motto Learning for Life is developed through our school vision:

We have a deep loyalty to our peers, our students and to the reputation of the school in our community.

Our core values underlying our vision are:

- Good positive relationships amongst all stakeholders
- Every child is capable of improvement
- All children deserve a safe, secure, supportive learning environment

Principal's Foreword

Introduction

As principal of Hampden State School I could not be more proud of the exciting work done each and every day, as we strive to continually improve outcomes for each and every one of our students. We recognize the individual learning needs and styles of each and every child and aim to provide differentiated learning opportunities to cater for these requirements.

The Hampden State School improvement agenda reflects the school's commitment to the key priorities identified by the school and the community. Through the improvement agenda the school will continue to improve student outcomes through parental engagement, teacher practice and student commitment to learning. Our small school enables students to regularly receive individual attention and instruction at their level, while providing security and support through a strong school community.

This Annual Report helps the school to share with parents and other members of the community information about the school, its strengths and its performance for 2017. It provides a snapshot of the offerings and achievements of Hampden State School for the previous 12 months.

Hampden State School continues to strive for improvement in the areas of literacy and numeracy. To achieve this, consistent intervention mechanisms have been put in place as well as setting up support strategies for those students working below the national average.

This report also contains information about what makes our school unique – the exciting and engaging teaching and learning, the multi-age learning environment, the social skills, the family-like supportive learning environment and the dedication and commitment of all staff. The content of this document meets both the Queensland Government and Australian Government annual reporting requirements for schools. Interested people can access this Annual Report via the School Website or from the school administration upon request.

Characteristics of the Student Body

Overview

Hampden's 83 students generally live within a 10 kilometre radius of the school, often on small acreage lots, or from the neighbouring town of Marian. In 2017 enrolments increased slightly, however enrolments have again fallen in 2018. Approximately 52% of the total student population are boys. Indigenous students made up 15% of the overall total of students in the school for 2017. All students speak English as their first language with only a few families having second language backgrounds and history. The vast majority of parents associated with the school are employed in mining related industries, with some self-employed and the remainder working in agricultural fields, primarily the sugar cane industry.

How Information and Communication Technologies are used to Assist Learning

Integrating the use of ICTs into all subject areas and in all year levels is a high continuing priority at Hampden State School. Each class has access to their own bank of computers. Hampden's on-going commitment to ICTs is also evidenced through its provision of an interactive whiteboard in every teaching space and the acquisition of iPads to assist students with special needs. In 2016 we began upgrading a number of our Interactive Whiteboards to High Definition Digital Touchboards and in 2017 all classrooms now have high definition touch screens.

The employment of a part-time technician was maintained in 2017 with further engagement happening in 2018 through the current technician and a parent volunteer who also has IT technical support skills.

At Hampden, students use our considerable ICT resources to explore the processes of inquiry and research across the key learning areas. They select appropriate devices and software to plan, create and refine digital products for specific purposes in a range of Australian Curriculum subjects. Students also select and use ICTs to enhance communication and collaboration in different contexts with identified audiences.

In 2017 we continued with Mathletics online to support our mathematics program and ensure students had an opportunity each day to use computers to support their learning. We also continued using PAT testing online for all students in preparation for the impending NAPLAN online testing program which was piloted in 2018 in other schools within the region and may be extended to our school in 2019.

In 2018 we are developing an action plan around the implementation of a STEM program, including 1:1 laptop and iPad classrooms, robotics and coding. As part of this strategic development we have upgraded our school wireless capability infrastructure and the number of network points available for access across the school. We will continue to upgrade and replace laptop computers to ensure all students have the opportunity daily to engage with technology.

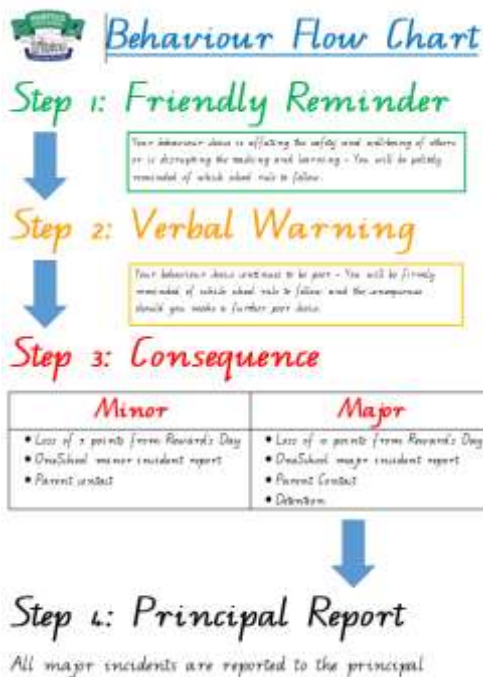

Social Climate

Overview

In 2017 the school continued the implementation of the following as the values used to support our four school rules: Be Safe, Be Responsible, Be Respectful, Be a Learner

We are sensible and polite
We follow teachers' directions
We do our best

Along with the school's continuing nondenominational religious education program significant positive outcomes are being achieved through a range of health and well-being programs being used across the school.

In 2016 the school, in consultation with its' key stakeholders, updated the Behaviour Management Plan to include a more explicit approach to dealing with minor and major consequences. From the commencement of 2016 all students start each term with 50 points. Minor indiscretions of any of the four school rules may result in the loss of 4 points. Major incidents may result in 10 points being deducted. Examples of minor and major incidents are displayed in classrooms taken from the behaviour policy. The school developed a clear flowchart to support the process of managing inappropriate behaviour. This was displayed in all classrooms, communicated in school newsletters and explicitly taught both on whole school parades and in individual classes. All students who maintain a balance of at least 25 points qualify for Reward's Day activities at the end of term. These processes were reviewed at the commencement of 2017 and agreed to be continued with no modification to the processes.

The school's major focus in behaviour management is on positive reinforcement and Hampden adopts a proactive approach, with staff, students and parents working together to minimise inappropriate behaviours, bullying and harassment in our school.

This is achieved through:

- A range of extrinsic rewards within classroom settings to motivate students to act according to the school rules and values
- Weekly 'Hampden Huge Effort' awards presented of parade.
- Morning tea with the Principal for weekly winners as a positive reinforcer

- 'Gotchal' tickets given to students found to be making choices appropriate and in line with the school values
- The use of the High 5 Strategy for conflict resolution and harassment
- Continued implementation of the You Can Do It program to support students with getting along, persistence, resilience, organisation, and confidence
- Training our students in assertiveness, problem solving and social skills. This is achieved through relationship building between teachers and students and through attention to areas of the curriculum.
- Making bullying an open topic, destroying the secretiveness by which it thrives.
- Open lines of communication between students and staff members that encourages students to report instances of harassment, conflict and bullying.
- Communicating and involving parents in our policy.

Parent and community engagement

At Hampden, parents have a wide range of opportunities to become involved in the education of their children, and they are actively encouraged to do so.

- Academic: Formal Parent-Teacher interviews are offered twice per year, but informal discussions are encouraged all year round.
- Classroom volunteers: Prep rosters, Activity Day rosters, Reading rosters, Sight-word rosters, Art & Craft Supervisors.
- Committees/Sub-Committees: P & C Association, Tuckshop, School Bus, Behaviour Management, Health & Safety, Grounds care, Fundraising
- Extra-curricular activities: Musical productions coordinators, School Camp volunteers, Excursion Supervisors, swimming tutors, Technology tutors, Sports coaches
- Parent information sessions: Class group/teacher information sessions are made available to parents as appropriate, usually at the beginning of Term 1

In addition, regular meetings are held with parents of students with disabilities and those students who are assessed to require an Individual Curriculum Plan. Initial meetings are held in Term 1 to establish the plan; a mid-year meeting is held at the beginning of Term 3 to make any modifications and adjustments to the plan, and a final meeting is held in Term 4 (if requested) to review the plan.

Respectful relationships programs

The school has developed and implemented a program or programs that focus on appropriate, respectful and healthy relationships.

- The use of the High 5 Strategy for conflict resolution and harassment
- Continued implementation of the You Can Do It program to support students with getting along, persistence, resilience, organisation, and confidence

Environmental Footprint

Reducing the school's environmental footprint

During 2017 the School Environmental Management Plan was continued and the component elements were prioritised for continued implementation. During 2017 the school continued to use rain water as the primary source of water for the school.

The addition of a second bank of solar panels during 2011 enabled the school to set targets to reduce its electricity consumption as an ongoing priority from 2012/2013 onwards. These improved targets continued to be met in 2014/2015 and further improvement occurred in 2015/2016 due to the continuation of our Environmental Management Plan

In 2015 the school introduced a more explicit approach to the recycling of materials by purchasing a range of recycling products, including a worm farm, purchased as part of the school's Cole Landcare Funding Grant.

In 2016/2017 we have made concerted efforts to ensure we have processes in place in all classrooms to ensure we use electricity in a sustainable manner. This has again seen us decrease our electricity consumption.

ENVIRONMENTAL FOOTPRINT INDICATORS
Years	Electricity kWh	Water kL
2014-2015	53,689
2015-2016	31,353
2016-2017	27,605

The consumption data is compiled from sources including ERM, Ergon reports and utilities data entered into OneSchool by each school. The data provides an indication of the consumption trend in each of the utility categories which impact on the school's environmental footprint.

*Attendance rates effectively count attendance for every student for every day of attendance in Semester 1. The student attendance rate is generated by dividing the total of full-days and part-days that students attended, and comparing this to the total of all possible days for students to attend, expressed as a percentage.

Description of how non-attendance is managed by the school

Non-attendance is managed in state schools in line with the Department of Education procedures, Managing Student Absences and Enforcing Enrolment and Attendance at State Schools and Roll Marking in State Schools, which outline processes for managing and recording student attendance and absenteeism.

Class rolls are marked twice a day at 9:10am and 1:40pm. Unexplained absences are monitored by the Principal and administration team through the OneSchool system each day in line with the same day notification policy. Teachers are responsible for following up with families when students are absent to see if a reasonable excuse is available. If they are unable to make contact with families they confirm with the Principal or administration that no notification has been received. Administration staff then contact parents by phone, text message or e-mail for explanations.

The school promotes the Every Day Counts strategy through newsletters, weekly parades and day to day communication with students and parents.

Certificates are issued each semester to students whose attendance rate is higher than 95% and families are notified by personal letter.

Students whose attendance is below 85% receive regular direct communication from the principal regarding the benefits of regular attendance by students. This includes phone calls and letters posted to families.

The school sets and promotes a target attendance rate of 95%.
